

Contents

Preface v

1. Planning Your Portfolio Course 1
  - Educational Portfolios 1
    - Portfolios for Learning 2
    - Best-Works Portfolios 2
  - Teaching Portfolios 3
  - The Electronic Portfolio 4
    - Technology Literacy 5
    - Common Tools 6
    - Navigational Schemes and Metaphors 6
  - QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER: Portfolio Types 7
  - Choice, Variety, and Reflection 7
  - Early Planning 9
    - General Guidelines 10
    - QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER: Setting Up Guidelines 11
    - Scheduling and Pace 11
    - Other Course-Planning Considerations 12
2. Collecting Artifacts 15
  - Why Keep a Teaching Portfolio? 16
  - Starting Your Own Portfolio 17
    - Determining Purpose and Audience 17
    - Adding Variety and Reflection to the Mix 18
3. Selecting Artifacts 20
  - Selecting Artifacts from a Rhetorical Perspective 20
    - Situation 21
    - Habit and Responsibility 22
    - Self-Presentation 22
    - Arrangement 23
    - Audience 23
  - Setting a Timeline 24
  - Helping Students Make Selections 25
    - Generative Questioning 26

---

Preconference Planning	28
Conferencing	29
4. Reflecting	30
The Reflective-Learning Habit	30
Postwrites and Companion Pieces	32
The Postwrite Process	33
Sample Postwrite	34
Postwrite Questions	35
Working with the Working Folder	36
Assigning the Reflective Introduction	38
QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER: The Reflective Element	39
The Pros and Cons of Modeling Reflective Introductions	41
Teaching Ideas	41
5. Assessing the Portfolio	42
Ongoing Assessment	43
Summative and Formative Evaluation	43
Challenging Students' Assumptions about Assessment	45
Ways to Assess	47
Reading and Grading the Portfolio	48
Developing a Scoring Guide	49
Getting the Grading Done	52
Assessing the Reflective Introduction	52
Glow and Schmooze	59
Judging Degrees of Schmooze	61
Appendix A: Student Permission Form	64
Appendix B: Model Portfolio Plan	65
Selected Annotated Bibliography on Teacher-Graded Classroom Portfolios	66
Works Cited	77