

CONTENTS

Preface	7
Chapter I
WHAT CAN BE EXPECTED FROM THE DEPARTMENTAL GUIDE AND RECORD BOOK?	9
How Does The Departmental Guide and Record Book Relate to A Practitioner's Handbook for Institutional Effectiveness and Outcomes Assessment Implementation (3rd ed.)	9
Establishing a Consistent Assessment Terminology	10
Determination of the Context for Implementation and Its Implications for the Department	10
Is It a Degree Program, Major, Emphasis, or Concentration?	15
Use of The Departmental Guide and Record Book in Implementation	16
Chapter II
PREPARING STATEMENTS OF INTENDED EDUCATIONAL (STUDENT) OUTCOMES	17
What Are Statements of Intended Educational (Student) Outcomes and Why Need We Prepare Them?	17
The Nature of Statements of Intended Educational (Student) Outcomes	18
Results vs. Process	18
The Importance (?) of Stating Intended Educational (Student) Outcomes in the Correct Manner	18
How Many Statements of Intended Educational (Student) Outcomes Are Necessary for Each Program?	19
The Accomplishment of Most Statements of Intended Educational (Student) Outcomes Should Be Ascertainable	20
How High Should Intended Educational (Student) Outcomes Be Set?	21
Preparing Statements of Intended Educational (Student) Outcomes	23
Role of the Departmental Administrator	23
Role of the Departmental Faculty	24
Potential Problems in Preparation of Statements of Intended Educational (Student) Outcomes	24
Faculty Ownership	24
Limiting the Number of Statements	25
Backing into Intended Educational Outcomes from Assessment Means	26
Revisions to Statements of Intended Educational (Student) Outcomes	27
Examples of Statements of Intended Educational (Student) Outcomes	27
General Comments	27
Concluding Comments Regarding Identification of Intended Educational (Student) Outcomes	30
Chapter III
ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT LEARNING	31
A Means or an End?	31
Assessment Is “No Big Deal”	31
Means of Assessment Available to Academic Departments	32
Qualitative and Quantitative Means of Assessment	32
Cognitive Means of Assessment	32
Assessment of Behavioral Change and Performance	37
Attitudinal Assessment	39

The Nature of the Assessment Process	41
Who/What Is Being Assessed?	41
How Will Assessment Results Be Utilized?	41
What Role Do Class Grades Play in Assessment?	42
Importance of Multiple Measures	44
Roles of the Faculty and Administration in Assessment	44
Examples of the Use of Various Means of Assessment	45
Concluding Comments Regarding Assessment	50
 Chapter IV
CLOSING THE LOOP TO SHOW USE OF ASSESSMENT RESULTS TO IMPROVE INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMMING	51
 Chapter V
ASSESSMENT IN GRADUATE AND PROFESSIONAL DEGREE PROGRAMS	59
Intended Educational (Student) Outcomes in Graduate and Professional Programs	59
Means of Assessment in Graduate and Professional Programs	59
Concluding Comments	62
 Chapter VI
GENERAL EDUCATION: THE SINGLE GREATEST ASSESSMENT ISSUE	63
Intended General Education (Student) Outcomes	64
Means of Assessment of Intended General Education (Student) Outcomes	65
Use of Results in General Education	66
Concluding Comments Regarding Assessment in General Education	67
 Appendix A
ASSESSMENT RECORD BOOK FORMS AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETION	69
 Appendix B
EXAMPLE ENTRY IN THE ASSESSMENT RECORD BOOK OF UNDERGRADUATE ENGLISH PROGRAM FIVE COLUMN EXAMPLE PROVIDED IN FIGURE 13	74
Examples of Assessment Record Forms	75