

UNI Foundation announces Iowa Electrathon Scholarship Fund

CEDAR FALLS, Iowa--High school students across Iowa have devoted a lot of hard work and creative energy to participate in the Iowa Electrathon, the unique event that has students build and race one person electric cars. As the participating students graduate and advance towards higher education, one of them may be arriving at the University of Northern Iowa with additional resources. The University of Northern Iowa Foundation is pleased to announce that they will award one former Iowa Electrathon high school participant with the Iowa Electrathon Scholarship Fund.

A one-time $500 (minimum) scholarship will be awarded to former participants that will attend the University of Northern Iowa. Students who have met the criteria and wish to apply for the scholarship must complete the following:

- A one-page reference from the team advisor discussing the applicant's involvement and contributions.
- An essay, power point or video presentation describing the applicant's team involvement.
- A one-paragraph teammate reference regarding the applicant's contributions and positive attributes to the team.
- An oral interview with the Iowa Electrathon Scholarship Committee.

Applications must be submitted by June 5, 2008. The Iowa Electrathon helps participants develop valuable math, science, technology, communication, and business skills. This scholarship will help these students start on the right track.
