

The Grout Museum District and the UNI Center for Holocaust and Genocide Education present

PURSUING JUSTICE: NUREMBERG'S LEGACY

a traveling exhibit from the Florida Holocaust Museum

This exhibit focuses on two sets of trials that have become known as the Nuremberg Trials. The International Military Tribunal, held November 20, 1945 through October 1, 1946, tried the major Nazi war criminals. Twelve subsequent trials were held December 9, 1946, through April 13, 1949.

APRIL 5 - JUNE 4, 2011

Sullivan Brothers Iowa Veterans Museum

Regular Museum Admission

Adults $10, Children (4-13) $5, Veterans $5, Members Free

Related Events:

These events are free and will take place in the Jean and Clair Parker Theater at the Sullivan Brothers Iowa Veterans Museum. Please use the main entrance at the corner of Park and Washington St. and park in the lot beneath the 218 overpass.

Speaker

Thursday, April 21, 7:00 p.m.

"The Legacy of Nuremberg"

Presentation by Gregory S. Gordon

Director, University of North Dakota Center for Human Rights and Genocide Studies

Film Series

Thursday, April 14, 7:30 p.m.

"The Nuremberg Trials," a 60-minute documentary made in 2006

Saturday, May 14, 1:00 p.m.

"Judgment at Nuremberg," the 1961 Academy-Award-winning film, and one of the first films to be made about the Holocaust

Thursday, June 2, 7:00 p.m.

"Nuremberg," a 2000 television docudrama, starring Alec Baldwin

Admission is free to the speaker and film showings; regular admission applies to the exhibit. For more information, contact the Grout Museum District at (319) 234-6357 or www.groutmuseumdistrict.org or see the Grout Museum District on Facebook. Additional information can also be found through the Center for Holocaust and Genocide Education at (319) 273-3870 or www.uni.edu/chge.

This program is supported by Humanities Iowa and the National Endowment for the Humanities. The views and opinions expressed by this program do not necessarily reflect those of Humanities Iowa and the National Endowment for the Humanities. Additional support has been received from the College of Humanities and Fine Arts at the University of Northern Iowa.

GROUT
MUSEUM
DISTRICT

Center for Holocaust and Genocide Education