

Attendance Policy

The 2010-2012 UNI Catalog states:

“Students are expected to attend class, and the responsibility for attending class rests with the student.

“Students are expected to learn and observe the attendance rules established by each instructor for each course.”

My attendance rules for this class are as follows:

Unexcused Absences:

- After the add deadline, you are allowed SIX free, or unexcused, absences.
- Beginning with your seventh unexcused absence, each successive absence will reduce your end-of-the-semester average by FIVE points.
- PLEASE NOTE: Absence from class on the Friday immediately before Thanksgiving Break will count as THREE absences.

Excused Absences:

- Under the terms of the UNI Catalog, absences due to official activities of University athletic and academic organizations may not be counted against a student. This rule does NOT apply to social and religious groups affiliated with the University. If you are on a University athletic team or participate in a University academic organization and must be absent, bring me a formal letter stating the reason for your absence, signed by the University official in charge of the activity.
- I will also excuse absences due to the following non-University causes:
 - actual, physical, hospitalization (i.e., overnight admission)
 - call-up for military duty
 - court duty, including
 - jury duty
 - appearance as a witness
 - appearance as a plaintiff
 - appearance as a defendant
 - as with excused University activities, you must give me documentary proof of the reason for your absence.
- No other absences, including those for personal or family emergencies, will count as excused absences, so you should save up your absences in case of such emergencies.
- I will post your TOTAL number of absences along with the scores on each test. Consult the posting to see what the tally of your absences is.
