Race, Privilege, and Difference Teacher Workshop

One hour of graduate credit

Instructor: Stephanie Logan

Course Description

Explore the systems of race, privilege, and difference in an effort to support greater equity and access to knowledge for all students and the creation of multicultural, democratic classrooms that celebrate respect for diversity.

Workshop presenter

Eddie Moore, Jr. currently serves as the Director of Diversity at the Brooklyn Friends School. He has provided diversity, privilege and oppression trainings, presentations, keynotes and workshops around the country. His mission is to encourage and stimulate thoughts, ideas and action focusing on complex social issues facing students and educators of all backgrounds and experiences.

Tuition

$50 for one hour of graduate credit or $50 to audit the course; reflects a special workshop rate for teachers.
