

Ethics

at the University of Northern Iowa

You already know that the University of Northern Iowa offers a great education, but did you know that we also offer great research and outreach related to Ethics? We encourage you to contact us for assistance, and look forward to working with you to grow Iowa's future.

Outreach & Research.....

College of Business Administration: In collaboration with the College of Humanities & Fine Arts, the CBA has an endowed chair in business ethics. The David W. Wilson Chair in Business Ethics works to foster discussion and debate about ethical practices in business, educates students and community members about the social and ethical issues facing global business, and develops state of the art research and theory in business ethics (Donna.Wood@uni.edu). Other research areas in CBA include: Transparency and social responsibility issues for Wikipedia; ethical business processes (Adele.Queiroz@uni.edu). Relationships between firms and their stakeholders and the affect on business performance (Jim.Mattingly@uni.edu). Business working within the constraints of capitalism to be more socially responsible (Steve.Wartick@uni.edu). Consumer and organizational ethics; ethical segmentation of consumers in developing countries (Mohammed.Rawwas@uni.edu).

Department of Communication Studies: Investigating public relations ethics (Dean.Kruckeberg@uni.edu). Improvisational theatre techniques to help educate students and professionals about healthy relationships and sexual ethics (Karen.Mitchell@uni.edu).

Department of Design, Textiles, Gerontology, and Family Studies: Empowering students to model ethical sexual behavior (Annette.Lynch@uni.edu and Michael.Fleming@uni.edu).

Department of English Language & Literature: Examining professional communication ethics (in practice and in pedagogy (Adrienne.Lamberti@uni.edu).

Department of Industrial Technology: Exploring history and the ethics of technology, specifically technological decision making (Michael.White@uni.edu).

Department of Philosophy & World Religions: Theological ethics; environmental ethics (Jerome.Soneson@uni.edu). Ethics of sex and relationships (Harry.Brod@uni.edu). Ethics in public policy, ethical theory, social, political and economic ethics (William.Clohesy@uni.edu). Ethical Theory (Margaret.Holland@uni.edu). Conducting research on issues related to bioethics (Francis.Degnin@uni.edu). Dr. Degnin also serves as a medical ethics educator and has worked with the area hospital ethics committees, medical professionals, clergy, and other groups in Iowa.

Department of Political Science: Ethical restrictions and free speech in state judicial elections (Scott.Peters@uni.edu).

Department of Social Work: Ethics in practice and the teaching of ethics and moral reasoning (Laura.Kaplan@uni.edu).

Department of Sociology: Conception and perception of ethics by criminology faculty and students (Gayle.Rhineberger@uni.edu). Ethical reflections in Sociology (Kent.Sandstrom@uni.edu).

Department of Special Education: Examining ethics in research (Deborah.Gallagher@uni.edu and Susan.Etscheidt@uni.edu).

School of Health, Physical Education and Leisure Services: Examining ethics in research (Larry.Hensley@uni.edu).

Christy Twait, Assistant Provost for Sponsored Programs--twait@uni.edu or 319-273-3282